NOTICE:

POSTPONED START DATES FOR SPRING 2022 COHORTS

Dear Students and Parents,

It's our displeasure to inform you that over the past several months, many newly accepted Spring Cohort students have experienced significant delays in the visa process due to the Covid-19 pandemic. Because most this year's Spring 22 cohort members are international students who will require a student visa, we have decided to postpone all Spring Cohort start dates regardless of citizenship status, so we can better meet the needs of our incoming class.

Although we wish starting Spring programs was still a possibility, we are confident that it is in students' best interest to start classes during one of the terms below, when students will have a complete cohort of pupils to study with.

NEW START TERMS FOR ALL SPRING APPLICANTS:

Bachelor level students: Summer 2022, July orientation and start date

Associate level students: Fall 2022, October orientation and start date

Please contact your admissions counselor to discuss how you wish to proceed in the admissions or enrollment process including deferring to another start date.

Thank you for your time and understanding. You can expect to receive more information about this change in the coming weeks

Director of Admissions,
Emilio Rodriguez
